

ECONOMIC

EMPLOYMENT

1. Employment: The City of Oak Grove is dependent upon Ft. Campbell and the related retailers who have established business to serve the Ft. Campbell market. A diversification of the employment through the creation of jobs is needed. The creation of jobs can utilize the labor resources of Clarksville, Tennessee to the south, Hopkinsville, Kentucky to the north and most importantly the skill labor found in the military personnel of Ft. Campbell.
2. Employment: The creation of an industrial facility will not only promote the diversity of the economic structure of Oak Grove but will also aid in creating a permanent population, by establishing a labor pool located near the employment center.
3. Employment: The Oak Grove community should never forget the service oriented relationship it has with Ft. Campbell. Over ninety-five (95) percent of the jobs in Oak Grove are service related. The City's dependence upon Ft. Campbell has been noted time and again within this document and demands for services directed toward military needs will always be high. Efforts made by the City officials should concentrate on those services which

Who What When Where Why?

The Clarksville/Hopkinsville Ad Club brings the advertising community together—to offer an exchange of ideas, to promote creativity and inject energy in the local advertising community. Naturally, as a special interest group, the Ad Club is involved in protecting our industry by monitoring legislature and supporting that which is favorable. In addition to those activities, the Ad Club is involved in community affairs. The club applies the skills, creativity and energy of the advertising industry to help solve social problems.

How does the Ad Club achieve these goals? The club offers exciting and informative programs at each monthly dinner meeting. Just last year, speakers and topics included Jeffrey Buntin from the largest ad agency in Tennessee; a representative from Cardin & Cherry, the creators of the "Ernest" campaign; and Steve Miller presented the Billy Ray Cyrus marketing success story.

In the coming year, the Ad Club will establish an internship program available to member businesses, schedule creative workshops, and fund a scholarship program for students.

The Clarksville/Hopkinsville Ad Club offers you the opportunity to meet others involved in advertising and share your expertise.

Be an important part of this club. Just fill out the attached membership form and mail it in today!

Mr. Tom Cassetty, President
WCVQ-FM
PO Box 2249
Clarksville, Tennessee 37042-2249

Dear Sir:

This letter is in response to your recent inquiry about our working relationship with the surrounding communities.

Oak Grove is in a unique position in that we are surrounded not only by other local Law Enforcement agencies, but by those of another state, and Federal authorities as well. Oak Grove sits on the border of Kentucky and Tennessee, and is bordered by Clarksville, Tennessee, Hopkinsville, Kentucky and the US Army Reservation of Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

We have always enjoyed a close working relationship with Ft. Campbell, with many of our Officers and Dispatchers being former military personnel. Our newest member of the Police Force is a former Military Policeman assigned to the Civil Liaison office at Ft. Campbell. He worked with us on many incidents that included military as either victims or perpetrators. When he was released from active duty, he started his employment with us as a Dispatcher, but was sworn in as a Police Officer as soon as a vacancy occurred. Other former MP's are serving as dispatchers at this time.

The Hopkinsville Police Department, and Christian County Sheriff's Office in Kentucky are always ready and able to assist at any time. Recently, the Crime Stoppers hot line that Hopkinsville Detective Rich Liebe is in charge of, has provided us with clues in solving several burglary cases. Without Det. Liebe's help, we could not have followed up on those clues because many of the clues were left on the hot line by people known only to Det. Liebe.

The Christian County Sheriff's office often provides Special Deputies to help us during special times, such as parades or times of hazardous weather.

Our relationship with Clarksville Tennessee is often even closer, because we are physically closer to that city. It is often just a matter of one phone call to have an Officer from Clarksville meet with an Oak Grove unit to help settle a problem on or near the State line. Whenever either City has a vehicle pursuit that crosses the State line, the other City will always respond an Officer to help in the chase.

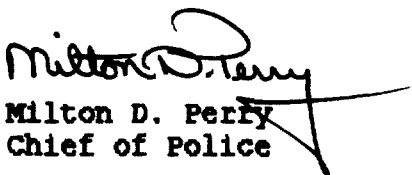

Often Detectives from both our City and Clarksville will work hand in hand to solve crimes that have occurred in each City.

Our Department has long maintained that Media relationships are very important to a town the size of Oak Grove. Therefore, we try to be both open and honest with the Press, whether they are local and hometown news, or the Network Affiliate TV Stations from Nashville, Tennessee. Our Detective has tried to hold Press conferences for all cases that could merit media coverage, and we are always happy to answer questions when we have the answers! In return, the news media has always treated the Oak Grove Police Department fairly and with respect.

Mr. Cassetty, "Q-108" has always worked closely with our Department, and has always stood ready to assist us in anyway possible.

"Q-108" has our gratitude, and thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely,

Milton D. Perry
Chief of Police

The seats of county and city leaders are up for grabs today in Christian County and Oak Grove. A light voter turnout is expected as residents cast their deciding vote. One of the most hotly contest races exist in Oak Grove where thirteen people have filed for six city council seats.

Thanksgiving festivities are coming a little earlier this month in Clarksville. Churches are being asked to toll their bells Sunday at noon as citizens join together for a Day of Thanksgiving to honor military troops serving in Somalia and to give thanks for the safe return of Michael Durant.

Beer selling establishments near churches and schools won't have to shut down just yet. A pastor's request to put 2000 feet between the two was sent back to the Public Safety Committee Monday by the Clarksville City Council. Councilmen say they won't vote on the recommendation until the F-S-C answers necessary legal questions.

Senator Bob Packwood and his diaries take center stage again today in the Senate. Senators are considering whether to ask a court to enforce a subpoena for Packwood's diaries so ethics investigators can look into charges of sexual harassment against him.

The future is looking brighter for the nations economy. The government within the hour will release the Index of Leading Economic Indicators for September. Analysts predict a fourth straight month of improvement, suggesting moderate growth well into 1994.

The Oak Grove controversy has moved a step closer to being over. The Mayor Jack Elliot and his brother C.E. Buddy Elliot were acquitted yesterday of federal land fraud. The Oak Grove city council has ordered a hearing to oust Mayor Elliot, but they have not set a date for the hearing.

Fort Campbell will be holding a departure ceremony for 530 soldiers. The soldiers will be heading to the Sinai peninsula to be part of peacekeeping forces there.

Today is July first and that means a host of new TN laws go into effect. New laws passed by state legislators say that teens caught carrying weapons can lose their driver's licenses and anybody under 21 is considered legally drunk with a fifth lower blood alcohol level than that required of an adult over 21.

A 16-year-old boy led several Kentucky police agencies on a 60 mile chase yesterday after he stole an ambulance. Officials say the boy held a gun to stole the ambulance and lead police on a chase down Kentucky highway 15. They say the boy ran through 2 police road blocks and knocked 7 police cars out of the way before they captured the youth. Officials have no motive yet.

The space shuttle "Endeavour" astronauts are ready to try again landing at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida. If questionable weather prevents a Florida touchdown, as it has the past two days, the landing site would be shifted to Edwards Air Force Base in California.
